

Environmental Governance through Public Engagement

- Srinivasulu IFS
www.srinivasifs.com

Conservation succeeds by empowering people with wildlife resources- case study

Poverty alleviation and creation of inviolate areas for wildlife can go hand in hand.

Mass outreach through mainstream print media for prevention and management of pollution

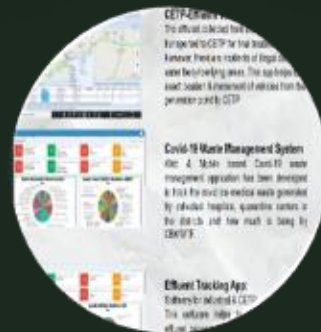

Yearlong outreach through mainstream Radio for prevention and management of pollution

Mass outreach through electronic and social media for prevention and management of pollution

Novel approach of sensitizing public by providing real time pollution index parameters

Maiden Transparent digital E-manifest for hazardous waste management

Massive digital campaign engaging celebrities, religious leaders, industries, line departments reaching quarter of state population in record time

Dedicated helpline and integrated command center to engage public at large

Testimonial for successful people centric turmeric Ganesha campaign 2021

Testimonial for successful people centric ecofriendly Ganesha campaign 2022

Engagement of influencers, change makers in environmental governance.

Adoption of technology and software in environmental governance

Adoption of technology and software in public governance

OUTLOOK – Where Conservation meets Innovation.

Engage all government departments in environmental governance, Karnataka economic survey-2021

CURRENT SCIENCE- Sustainable industrialization the path forward

“Empowering people, embracing technology, and engaging society at scale—this is the new paradigm of environmental governance. Where conservation, communication, and innovation converge for sustainable futures.”

